Glamping is a unique way to spend time enjoying the outdoors without having to commit to the formalities of traditional camping. It's camping with the comforts of home or glamorous camping, which is where the name 'glamping' came from! You still have a tent, but rather than sleeping bags and cramped spaces you can enjoy warm, cosy home-like surroundings with a bed, walls and a kitchen. Glamping allows you to experience the serenity and unique outdoor experience that traditional camping offers, just with the comforts of home!

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM GOING GLAMPING

WEATHER The weather is British! So no matter what time of the year you're coming we recommend being prepared for rain and shine. Layering is the key.

COOKING © Most glamping locations have cooking facilities. This could be in your accommodation or away. We provide a butane hob and wood burning stove.

NOISES There's going to be some interesting noises - you're outside amongst nature. You'll hear things you don't usually enjoy them and listen!

Cooking while glamping is half the fun! We provide a butane hob and wood burning fire for you to conjure up your culinary glamping delights. Here are some tips for cooking while luxury camping.

HOW TO COOK GLAMPING STYLE

LIGHT A FIRE Remember to take matches and a lighter with you. We also recommend some old newspaper as tinder to help things get going.

KEEPING COOL There's not usually any fridge available when glamping but some sites (such as Lantern and Larks) have interesting refrigeration techniques. A cool box is an option.

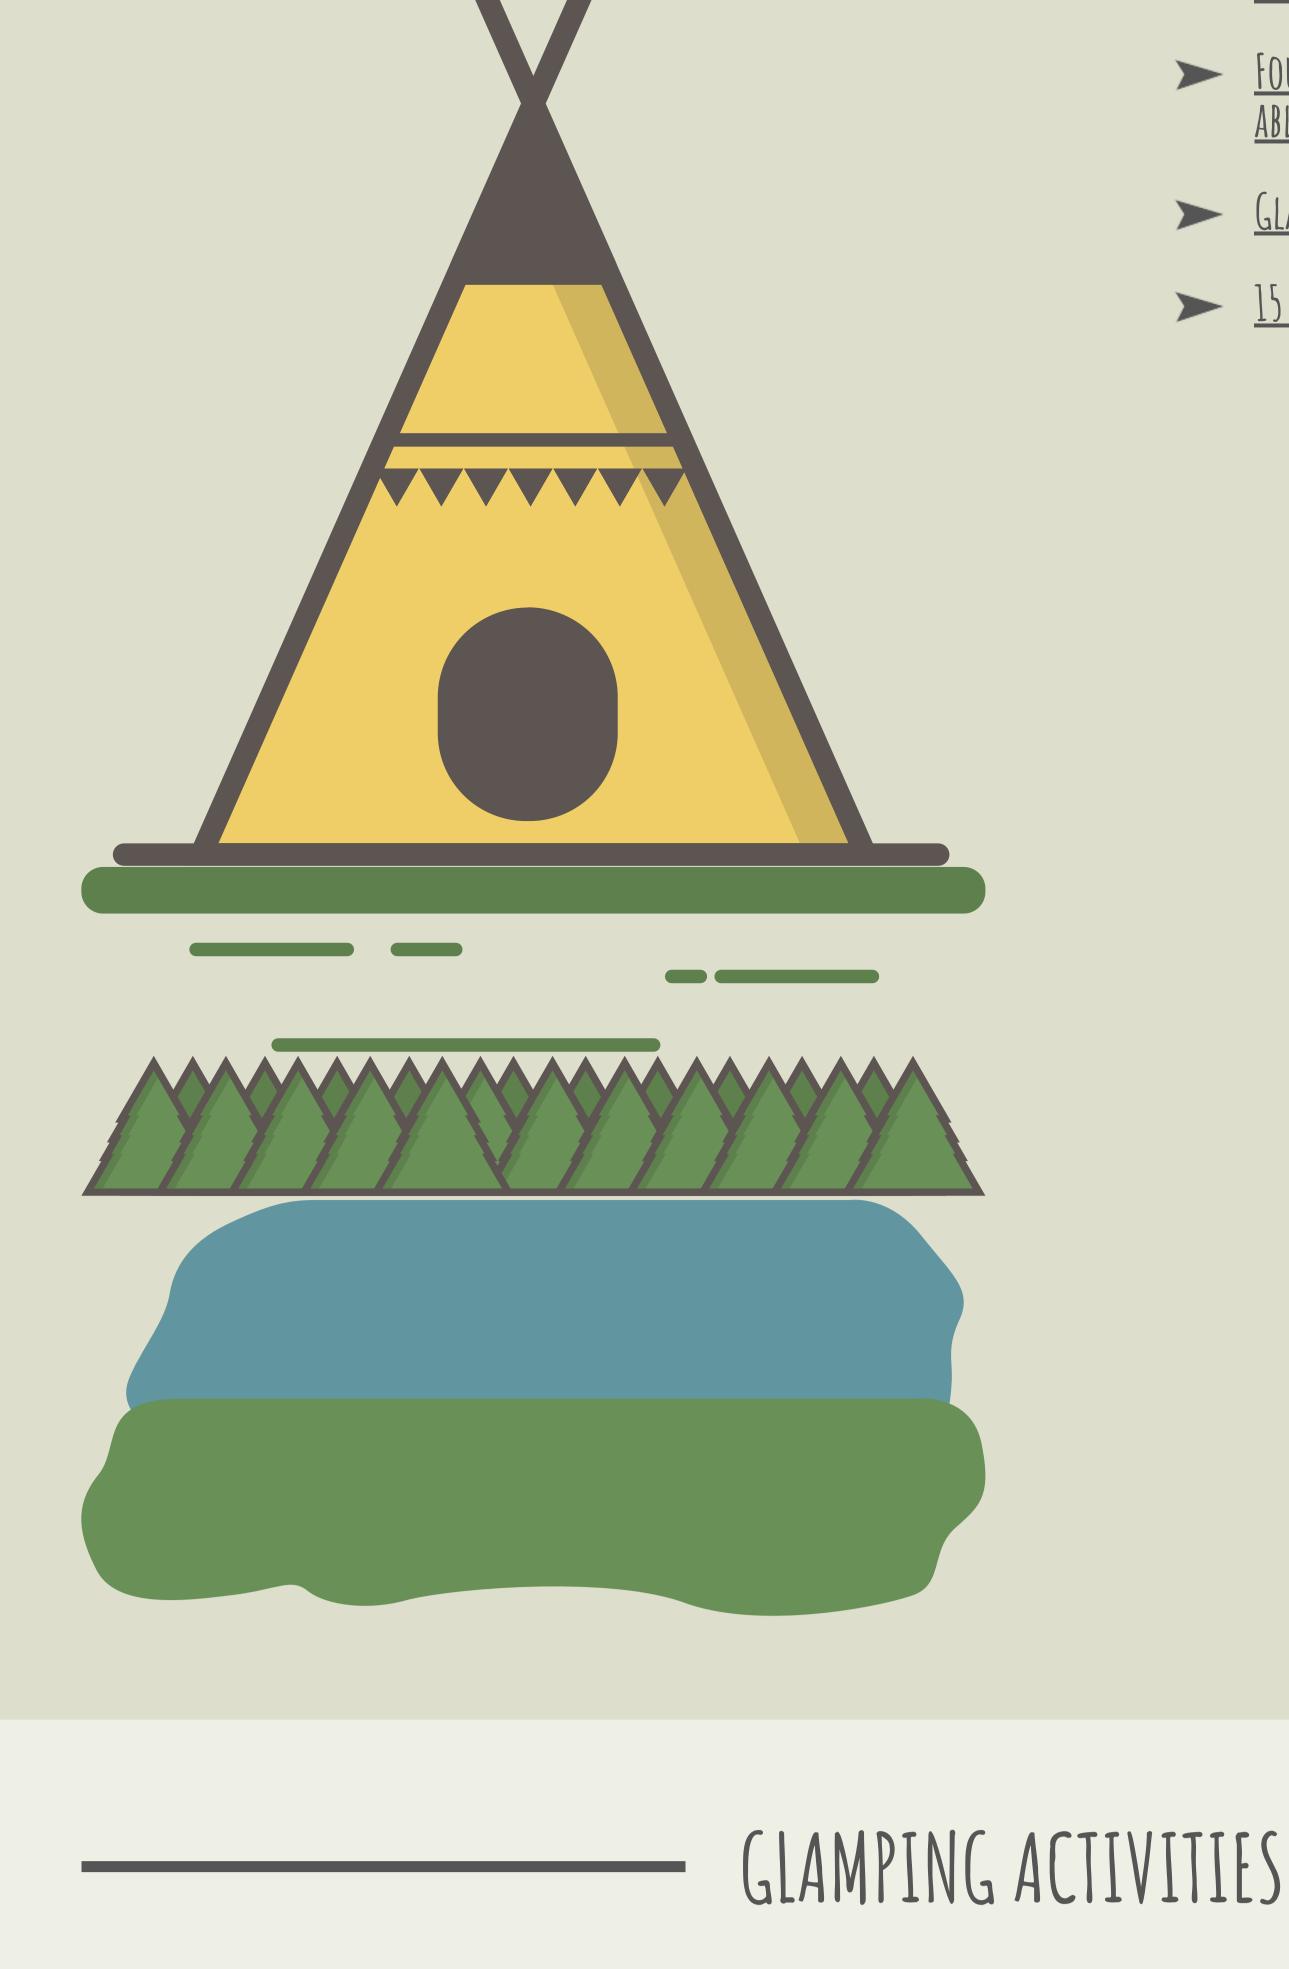

POTS AND PANS Most glamping locations provide these for you (it is luxury camping, right?) so there's no need to drag them along with you like traditional camping.

Similarly to pots and pans all cooking and eating utensils are provided for you. Bring along the children's or baby's but all other utensils will be in your accommodation waiting for you on arrival.
